Orcs Crush Humans!

It should be no surprise to seasoned Bloodbowlers that Orc teams just tear up the competition --- literally! This week has been no acception.

Not one, but two separate orc teams delivered significant punishment to human challengers. Currently second in their division, the Nuln Widowmakers had expected an easy win over last-place orcs, the Greenskin Smackers. However, true to their name, the Smackers sent not one, but two of the Nuln home in bodybags to crying wives. Alaric, a catcher who was just starting to gel with the team, had his head turned into gel by a Black Orc. Across the continent, the Bogenhafen Brute Squad faced the D-Orcs in an away game where more Brute fans packed the stadium than the home team could muster. Those fans were in for significant disappointment, as team runner and all-star Inigo had his ankle crushed early in the match. Luckily, the team's doctor was on hand to fulfil his contract and tend the wound. The doctor was on lunchbreak, however, when Fezzik, ogre for the team, took a fatal knockdown. Tragedy. Smackers allstar and captain Pinky had this to say about the nature of the sport, and the heavy casualties inflicted, both in his game, and many others this season, "Um... I dunno. I jus' throw da ball."

GOBBO ON DA GREEN

Blood was had on da bowl after da *Khorne Stampeder*s crushed da New Ulthuan Patriots! I mean, technically da elves won da game, but you try tellin' dat to Silvanel --- oh wait he's dead. Da *Stampeder*s wracked up an impressive five casualties throughout da game, including causing severe root-rot to Yewheart, the elves' treeman. It was durin' dis game dat Bovinicus the Minotaur got so angry he sprouted tentacles. Dis should cause more than a little concern for the league, as Grobulus of *The Talleyman*s is de only other Big Guy known to have such a mutation, and life was scary enough with one of dem! While bowlers of blood may feel safe having avoided scary mutants so far, the *Stampeder*s are looking toward franchise possibilities for next season eagerly and hungrily!

MIDAS THE MEAN'S GOLDEN TOUCH

Ok so last week was great! Not only did we get to see some great Blood Bowl, I made even more coins. This week we get to see the returning champs, the Van Helsing's Voodoo take the pitch against the Mordenheim Saints. Cuddles continues to grow into a star. I've seen him tear the arms off a Black Orc and run right over an Elf. The Saints are going to have their hands full on this one! However the Saints passing game is one the league is talking about; they should hold their own for a half but you have my word this game will end in a Voodoo win. I'll say the spread on this one is 1.5. However, the Saints could come out ahead if they cash in on the 10K bounty on Cuddles.

To make things interesting, bet on Cuddles getting 1 TD, 1 Casualty and a Completion. Don't buy into my predictions? Then bet against me.

Obituaries - In Memoriam

Silvanel of the New Ulthuan Patriots took a fist through the head from a raging Khorne Stampeder. The Patriots have stopped paying life-insurance premiums. Fezzik, of the Bogenhafen Brute Squad, team favourite and casualty king, met a tragic end. While the team has hired on his twin by the same name (worst parents ever!), he's no longer the biggest and the strongest. Brutes' member Marlin also died. The team was too emotional to note his passing. Alaric was fouled horribly. Nuln Widowmakers sent carnations to his widow. Widowmakers also mourn Mathias, whose wife was sent dozens of assorted roses. I guess the team liked him better than Alaric?
